By the King.

A PROCLAMATION

For the further Proroguing the Parliament.

CHARLES R.

THe Kings moſt Excellent Majeſty, taking into his Princely Conſideration, the hazardous conſequences, and perils which may enſue by the extraordinary reſort of people which muſt neceſſarily attend the Sitting of the Parliament, if the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons ſhould Aſſemble at Weſtminſter at the time now preſixt; by which occaſion (eſpecially at this ſeaſon of the year) the late Contagion in the Cities of London and Weſtminſter, (where at preſent, by Gods great mercy, it is almoſt totally abated) may be again increaſed; And for other weighty conſiderations, his Majeſty doth by the Advice of his Priby Council, Publiſh, Notifie, and Declare his Will and Pleaſure to be, That the Parliament ſhall be Prorogued from the Three and twentieth day of this inſtant Moneth of April, until the Eighteenth day of September now next coming: Whereof the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, Knights, Citizens and Burgeſſes, and all others whom it may concern, may hereby take notice, and order their Affairs accordingly: We letting them know, That We will not at the ſaid Three and twentieth day of April, expect the attendance of any, but onely ſuch as being in or about Our Cities of London or Weſtminſter, may attend the making of the ſaid Prorogation, as heretofore in like caſe hath been accuſtomed.

Given at Our Court at Whitehall, the 6th day of April, 1666. in the 18th year of Our Reign.

God ſave the King.
